Legal notice

The software used performs calculations on the basis of more than the two decimal places displayed. Minor discrepancies cannot be ruled out due to further calculations using published results.

The value of a unit is calculated by dividing the entire value of the investment fund inclusive of its income by the number of units. The total value of the investment fund is calculated on the basis of the current market prices of the securities, money market instruments and subscription rights in the fund plus the value of the fund's financial investments, cash holdings, credit balances, receivables and other rights net of its payables. That value will be calculated by the custodian bank.

The net assets are calculated in accordance with the following principles:

- a) The value of assets quoted or traded on a stock exchange or other regulated market shall be determined, in principle, on the basis of the most recently available price.
- b) Where an asset is not quoted or traded on a stock market or another regulated market or where the price for an asset quoted or traded on a stock market or another regulated market does not appropriately reflect its actual market value, the prices provided by reliable data providers or, alternatively, market prices for equivalent securities or other recognized market valuation methods shall be used.

Raiffeisen KAG uses the method developed by OeKB (Österreichische Kontrollbank AG) to calculate the fund's performance, on the basis of data provided by the custodian bank (where payment of the redemption price is suspended, using indicative values). Some costs – the subscription fee (not exceeding 4.00 % of the invested amount) and any redemption fee (not exceeding 0.00 % of the sold amount) – are not included in the performance calculation. Depending on their concrete value, they will reduce a performance accordingly. Past results do not permit any reliable inferences as to the future performance of the fund.

Dear unitholder,

Raiffeisen Kapitalanlage-Gesellschaft m.b.H. is pleased to present its semi-annual fund report for Raiffeisen Global Equities for the period from 1 September 2015 to 29 February 2016.

Fund investment policy report

The fund pursues a “bottom-up” stockpicking strategy, i.e. equities are selected worldwide on the basis of an individual, company-specific assessment. This produces a portfolio which is broadly diversified in terms of its individual securities, subsectors and countries. The investment process is based on a clear and disciplined approach and the entire security universe of around 4,500 equities undergoes a weekly filtering process based on four factors. Companies which are attractive in terms of their valuations and quality and which also comply with the prescribed criteria in terms of their profit trends and from a technical point of view undergo a further, fundamental analysis before they are included in the portfolio.

The fund registered a performance of approx. -7 % in the last six months. The weak trend in September 2015 was primarily shaped by growth fears in China and exacerbated by unexpected depreciation of the renminbi. The markets subsequently recovered in October and November 2015, led by the telecommunications, defensive consumer (Japan Tobacco) and energy (Valero Energy) sectors. The financial sector – led by Canadian Imperial Bank of Commerce, Cheung Kong Property and Ally Financial – weakened. The fund’s weakest securities also included the pharmaceuticals firm Valeant, whose price policy is viewed increasingly critically. The contributions provided by the fund’s holdings in technology companies (incl. Activision Blizzard, Avago and PayPal) were unable to make up for its lack of investments in Microsoft and Alphabet. This sector thus failed to provide a positive contribution in the 4th quarter of 2015. The global stock markets got off to a very weak start in 2016. A persistently weak oil price exacerbated concerns over global economic growth. Companies such as Tyson Food (positive outlook and expansion of its share buyback program) and Gilead Sciences (share buyback program and increased dividend) remained immune during this difficult market phase. Moreover, in February 2016 the fund benefited from its stockpicking in the technology sector (ARRIS, Vantiv, Mellanox and Check Point Software) and likewise from its lack of investments in Microsoft and Alphabet.

Securities lending transactions were entered into in order to generate additional income.
